

Relationships evolve
until that crystal port where one party
gets tendered
a fitness report.

That person, instead
of pondering for clarity, may lash out, introducing, thus, emotion. Counterproductive at the least.

Both parties stew, recycling arch ideas and low hurts--some true, but punchless-ly old. We grow through opposites.
